And now it's time for everyone's FAVORITE game, FACT or MYTH?

MYTH: The lower the vacuum is set to the carpet -- the better it cleans.

Most people set their vacuum too low to the carpet thinking it will clean better. The vacuum should be set as high as possible off the carpet but just low enough so that the brushes are meeting the carpet. This setting allows the most amount of airflow to rush into the vacuum nozzle and allows the brushes to lift the nap and do their job. When you set the vacuum too low, you cause it to seal to the carpet, reduce or stop airflow and create unwanted strain on the vacuum motor, belt and brush roller. We recommend attention be paid to your vacuum's height adjustment and make sure it's set correctly. Your vacuum will perform better and last longer.

MYTH: Bagless vacuums are more advanced and better than bagged vacuums.

The best vacuums use bags. Period. No exceptions. Yes, there are some good bagless vacuums -- and many of our customers like them -- but experienced vacuum experts always recommend today's advanced bagged vacuums. Vacuum bags generally cost less per year than the expensive filters required for bagless vacuums. Bagged vacuums are also usually lighter weight and easier to use than bagless vacuums. Bagged vacuums run cooler and generally last longer than bagless vacuums because when you replace the bags you're replacing the "lungs" of the vacuum. Additionally, a good, high-quality bagged vacuum is much better for allergy sufferers than bagless vacuums because it won't leak as much dust and dirt. And regardless of the advertising campaigns, there is no such thing as a "lifetime filter" for any bagless vacuum! The general "lifetime" of these filters is 3-5 years or less -- and who wants to change that dusty thing anyhow!

MYTH: Vacuum cleaners do not need to be serviced. You should just run them until they die.

A vacuum cleaner is not like any other household appliance. A vacuum has dirt, dust, hair and debris continuously blowing through it and needs to be serviced and maintained. All vacuum manufacturers recommend service and preventative maintenance on their vacuum cleaners. This important service should be performed regularly per the manufacturer recommendations, usually every 12-24 months depending on the size and activity in your home. In fact, servicing your vacuum every 12-24 months will keep it running efficiently, and could more than double or triple the life of your vacuum. A vacuum service/tune-up at Bank's Vacuum is inexpensive (from $19.95) and can sometimes be performed while you wait if we have all the parts on hand and usually within 24 hours.
